Reduction of acute intestinal absorptive disorders – `during periods of and recovery from acute diarrhoea`

Pectins are more than just dietary fiber. Naturally occurring in many types of fruit, these plant-based polysaccharides act as a natural gelling agent. Once in the intestines, they absorb excess moisture and can thus be a natural aid to digestive disturbances. Diarrhea Stop Plus absorbs moisture, supports the natural mucilaginous, protective barrier of the intestine, and helps to replenish the mineral balance stressed by diarrhea.

Expert tip: For a faster initial effect, the feeding amount of Diarrhea Stop Plus can be doubled at the beginning. It can also be used in combination with GutActive to support nutrition-related diarrhea.
